CURRICULUM & INFORMATION

RECREATIONAL THERAPY

Recreational Therapy, also known as 'Therapeutic Recreation', is one of the fastest growing health care professions, already has more than 30,000 Recreational Therapists in the United States. TR is a systematic process that utilizes recreation and other activity-based interventions that are based upon the assessed needs of individuals with illnesses and their disabling conditions.

The purpose of Recreational Therapy process is to improve or maintain physical, cognitive, social, emotional and spiritual functioning of the client, in order to facilitate his/her full participation in life.

The National Council for Therapeutic Recreation Certification (NCTRC) provides voluntary certification (CTRS) to individuals who apply and meet established standards for certification, including education, experience and continuing professional development.

American Academy of International Education offers two programs for the Recreational Therapists – Specialist with a 2-Year Diploma and Technician with 1-Year Certificate, both of whom generally work within the healthcare professions at Physical Therapy Clinic, Hospitals, Outpatient Clinics, Rehabilitation Facilities, Nursing Homes, Hospices, Industrial/Corporate Health Centers, Athletic Facilities, Fitness Centers, Sports Training or Recreational Facilities.

The comprehensive training in Physical Therapy at the American Academy of International Education provides you with extensive knowledge of Human Anatomy, Physiology and a variety of modalities in Physical Therapy. The curriculum also include training in psychology, sociology, ethics, Multicultural Studies, etc., to enhance your career as a successful Physical Therapist Assistant.

Besides the lab at AAIE, Practical Training is done at designated Recreational Therapy Clinic or another facility. New Classes start in January, April, July and October. Classes are held during the day, evening or weekends for your convenience.
